SUBJECT: GAIN Surveys

REFERENCE: ACIN I-48-97

This letter is to inform the counties that the completion of the GAIN survey forms (Aid to Families With Dependent Children-Unemployed Parent -AFDC-U, FSA 103, and GAIN 61) used for the calculation of the work participation rate for California will no longer be required. The information to calculate California's work participation rate will be collected through the County Performance Sample process. As stated in the ACIN I-48-97, this process will be administered by the California Department of Social Services Review and Evaluation Bureau (REB).

Therefore, beginning with the July 1997 survey month, counties are no longer required to complete the above GAIN survey forms. However, counties are requested to continue to submit the GAIN 61 universe list until further notice since data from this list are needed for program forecasting purposes.

If you have any questions, please contact Nguyet Nguyen of the Information Services Bureau at (916) 653-7651.
